

Lieutenant Colonel Erin Schaible

Lieutenant Colonel Erin Schaible is a 23-year veteran of law enforcement. LTC Schaible most recently served as Patrol Bureau commander for Division II which included the Mason and McLean District Stations, Community Resources Division, Gang Unit, and Field Training program. Additionally, LTC Schaible commanded emergency operations for the Police Department in her role as a Patrol Bureau major. Additionally, in her assignment as a Patrol Bureau major, she managed the school resource officer program, the crime prevention program, and has taken the lead to pilot a restorative justice program with the school resource officers in coordination with many community and County partners.

Prior to her current position in the Patrol Bureau she was the commander of the Resource Management Bureau. In this position she managed a multimillion dollar budget with oversight of three divisions; logistics, property and evidence, and records and facilities.

LTC Schaible began her law enforcement career as a patrol officer assigned to Mason District Station. She has served in a variety of assignments throughout her career as she steadily rose through the ranks. Prior command assignments have included the Internal Affairs Bureau, Organized Crime and Narcotics, Franconia District Station, Mclean District Station, Reston District Station, School Liaison Commander, and Staff Duty Officer.

LTC Schaible received her undergraduate degree from Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University (Virginia Tech) and her graduate degree from George Mason University. During her career she has also graduated from a variety of professional development programs including the Federal Bureau of Investigation's National Academy (FBINA) and the Wharton School of Business where she obtained a certificate in Public Pension Funds.

In addition to the above duty assignments, LTC Schaible also served two four-year terms on the Police Retirement Board. She is currently active with the FBINA Virginia Chapter and serves as a Member-at-Large. LTC Schaible's professional affiliations include the International Association of Chiefs of Police and the FBI National Academy Associates.
